The One Legendary Weekend Tour is coming to Hinesville, Georgia on September 30th at 7:00PM. It's presented by The Bureau of Compellers in partnership with Fellowship of Love Worship Center with Team Leader and Speaker Sidney Bryant Sr.

The seminar entitled "Becoming the Legendary Man" is developed to inspire African American men to change their mindset of living in the shadow of sin, to walking into a Legendary life with Christ. The Goal is to reach 500 young men in three states: Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia.

The Bureau of Compellers desires that (1) God gets the glory through the life of men all over the country, (2) that there be community impact through Biblical references, (3) that young African American brothers become efficiently and adequately equipped to change the direction of their lives for the better, (4) that it successfully stressed that it is important for men to seek God for His plan and to trust Him throughout the journey of life and lastly (5) that manhood is addressed in a manner that promotes humility and honor continuously throughout their life in all measures.

Although this event was initially designed for men, it can serve as being beneficial to women as well- especially to those who are newlyweds, engaged or waiting in anticipation of their husband. This seminar will define God's plans and order of operation for the men in the body of Christ. It too provides an explanation of numerous principles that can be applied to a man's life so that he can better understand who he is before he seeks out companionship or establishes a family. One Legendary Weekend is designed to motivate, inspire and transform the lives of the attendees.
